I am a fresh graduate from the Information Systems program at Andalas University with a strong interest in web development, business analysis, and marketing. I gained valuable experience during a 6-month internship at PT Semen Padang through the Ministry of SOEs' MAGENTA program, where I worked as IT Support and helped with HR-related tasks. I also completed a 3-month internship at a government office, where I helped develop an information system and improved my technical skills. I am excited to keep learning and using my skills in technology, business, and marketing to make a positive impact.
